

รายวิชา ภาษาอังกฤษ

Knife and Fork

รหัสวิชา อ22102 ชั้นมัธยมศึกษาปีที่ 2

ผู้สอน สวรรยา อุดรพรหม

Unit 2

Cultures and festivals

Knife and Fork

ภาพ Dining table โดย @freepik จาก <https://www.freepik.com/free-photos-vectors/food>>Food vector created by freepik -

www.freepik.com สืบค้นเมื่อวันที่ 4/11/62

An illustration of a dining table set for a meal. On the left, there are three teal-handled spoons and knives. In the center, a purple napkin is folded with a white floral pattern. To the right, a plate contains a watermelon slice and a green leaf. Below the napkin is a small white bowl with a golden-brown loaf of bread. At the bottom left, there are two teal-handled forks. At the bottom right, a plate features a whole fish, two sliced tomatoes, and a green vegetable. Next to it is a small bowl of red sauce and another small teal bowl.

จุดประสงค์การเรียนรู้

อ่านข้อความเกี่ยวกับวัฒนธรรมบน
โต๊ะอาหารและบอกตำแหน่งของอุปกรณ์
บนโต๊ะอาหารของชาวตะวันตกได้ถูกต้อง

Activity

Hangman

Activity

What are they?

Let's check the answer

dinner fork

napkin

water glasses

dinner knife

dinner plate

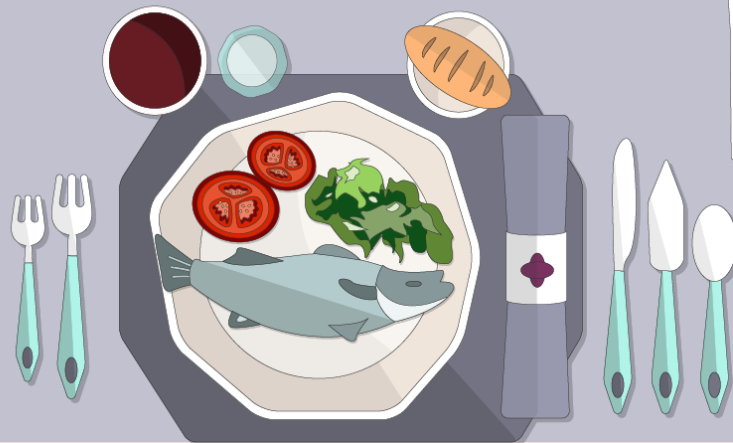

spoon

Handout 13.1 Knife and Fork

ใบสื่อที่ 13.1 เรื่อง Knife and Fork
หน่วยที่ 2 แผนการจัดการเรียนรู้ที่ 13 เรื่อง Knife and Fork
รายวิชา ภาษาอังกฤษ รหัส อ22102 ภาคเรียนที่ 2 ชั้นมัธยมศึกษาปีที่ 2

Knife and Fork

In Thailand, it is customary to eat with a fork and spoon. The fork is held in the left hand, to push the food onto the spoon. Then the food on the spoon is put into the mouth with the right hand. This is convenient because in Thai cooking the food is already cut up into small pieces that can fit into the mouth.

In most Western countries, however, the meat, and often the vegetables, are too big to fit in the mouth. The people eating must cut up the food themselves. This is done with the knife and fork.

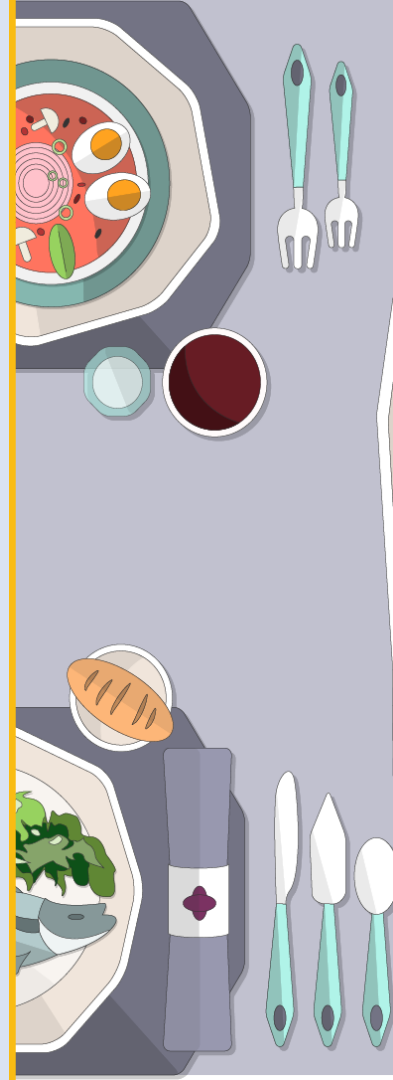

In the Western custom, the fork is still held in the left hand, and is stuck into the meat to hold it steady. Then the knife, held in the right hand, cuts the meat. After cutting one piece of meat, the person will pick it up with the fork and put it in his mouth. Any vegetables that are too big to eat whole can be cut with the side of the fork. However, if they are too hard to cut with a fork, then they are cut using the knife. The knife stays in the right hand, and the fork stays in the left hand.

Here is how people in the West lay the table: with the fork to the left of the plate, and the knife and spoon to the right. The blade of the knife always faces toward the plate. Sometimes a napkin is placed under the fork, and sometimes it's fold on the plate.

At very fancy dinners, you may be given more than one fork; one for the salad, one for the dish, one for dessert, etc. You may also be given more than one spoon. When this happens, no one expects you to know which is the correct fork or spoon to use for which food.

Activity

Grouping

Handout 13.1 Knife and Fork

ใบสื่อที่ 13.1 เรื่อง Knife and Fork
หน่วยที่ 2 แผนการจัดการเรียนรู้ที่ 13 เรื่อง Knife and Fork
รายวิชา ภาษาอังกฤษ รหัส อ22102 ภาคเรียนที่ 2 ชั้นมัธยมศึกษาปีที่ 2

Knife and Fork

In Thailand, it is customary to eat with a fork and spoon. The fork is held in the left hand, to push the food onto the spoon. Then the food on the spoon is put into the mouth with the right hand. This is convenient because in Thai cooking the food is already cut up into small pieces that can fit into the mouth.

In most Western countries, however, the meat, and often the vegetables, are too big to fit in the mouth. The people eating must cut up the food themselves. This is done with the knife and fork.

In the Western custom, the fork is still held in the left hand, and is stuck into the meat to hold it steady. Then the knife, held in the right hand, cuts the meat. After cutting one piece of meat, the person will pick it up with the fork and put it in his mouth. Any vegetables that are too big to eat whole can be cut with the side of the fork. However, if they are too hard to cut with a fork, then they are cut using the knife. The knife stays in the right hand, and the fork stays in the left hand.

Here is how people in the West lay the table: with the fork to the left of the plate, and the knife and spoon to the right. The blade of the knife always faces toward the plate. Sometimes a napkin is placed under the fork, and sometimes it's fold on the plate.

At very fancy dinners, you may be given more than one fork; one for the salad, one for the dish, one for dessert, etc. You may also be given more than one spoon. When this happens, no one expects you to know which is the correct fork or spoon to use for which food.

True or False

Handout 13.1 Knife and Fork

ใบสื่อที่ 13.2 เรื่อง True or False (สำหรับครูเตรียมให้นักเรียน)
หน่วยที่ 2 แผนการจัดการเรียนรู้ที่ 13 เรื่อง Knife and Fork
รายวิชา ภาษาอังกฤษ รหัส อ22102 ภาคเรียนที่ 2 ชั้นมัธยมศึกษาปีที่ 2

In the Thai custom, the fork is used to push the food onto the spoon.

In the Western custom, the knife is used to cut meat and vegetables.

Thai and Western people hold the fork in the left hands.

The blade of the knife faces toward the plate.

People in the West place the knife and spoon at the same side on the table.

In Thai cooking, the food is too big to fit in the mouth.

Western people hold the knife in their left hands.

Western people do not vegetable with the fork.

After cutting meat, Western people will pick it up with the spoon.

In the Western custom, there is only one fork on the table.

Check the answer

In the Thai custom, the fork is used to push the food onto the spoon. T

Check the answer

In the Western custom,
the knife is used to cut meat and vegetables. T

Check the answer

Thai and Western people hold the fork in the left hands. T

Check the answer

The blade of the knife faces toward the plate. T

Check the answer

People in the West place the knife and spoon at the same side on the table. T

Check the answer

In Thai cooking, the food is too big to fit in the mouth. F

Check the answer

Western people hold the knife in their left hands.

F

Check the answer

Western people do not vegetable with the fork.

F

Check the answer

After cutting meat,
Western people will pick it up with the spoon. F

Check the answer

In the Western custom,
there is only one fork on the table. F

สื่อวีดิทัศน์นี้ใช้เพื่อการศึกษาเท่านั้น

ขอขอบคุณสื่อวีดิทัศน์

How do you set the table

เผยแพร่โดย: TED-Ed

เผยแพร่วันที่ 26 มิ.ย. 2013

ที่มา : <https://youtu.be/KoU1XiQJ1vo>

Activity

Set the Table

dinner fork

napkin

water glasses

dinner knife

dinner plate

spoon

บทเรียนครั้งต่อไป

เรื่อง Are you superstitious?

สิ่งที่ต้องเตรียม

1. ใบสื่อที่ 14.1 แถบประโยคความเชื่อ
2. ใบสื่อที่ 14.2 บทอ่านเกี่ยวกับความเชื่อ
3. ใบงานที่ 14.1 True/False

สามารถดาวน์โหลดได้ที่ www.dltv.ac.th

Knife and Fork

เป็นปกติ

In Thailand, it is customary to eat with a fork and spoon. The fork is held in the left hand, to push the food onto the spoon. Then the food on the spoon is put into the mouth with the right hand.

สะดวกสบาย

This is convenient because in Thai cooking the food is already cut up into small pieces that can fit into the mouth.

In most Western countries, however, the meat, and often the vegetables, are too big to fit in the mouth. The people eating must cut up the food themselves. This is done with the knife and fork.

In the Western custom, the fork is still held in the left hand, and is stuck into the meat to hold it <sup>สะดวกสบาย</sup> steady. Then the knife, held in the right hand, cuts the meat. After cutting one piece of meat, the person will pick it up with the fork and put it in his mouth. Any vegetables that are too big to eat whole can be cut with the side of the fork.

However, if they are too hard to cut with a fork, then they are cut using the knife. The knife stays in the right hand, and the fork stays in the left hand.

Here is how people in the West lay the table: with the fork to the left of the <sup>จาน</sup>plate, and the knife and spoon to the right. The blade of the knife always faces toward the plate.

ผ้าเช็ดปาก

Sometimes a napkin is placed under the fork, and sometimes it's fold on the plate.

At very fancy dinners, you may be given more than one fork; one for the salad, one for the dish, one for dessert, etc.

You may also be given more than one spoon. When this happens, no one expects you to know which is the correct fork or spoon to use for which food.

You may also be given more than one spoon. When this happens, no one expects you to know which is the correct fork or spoon to use for which food.

