Songkran festival

My wife and I traveled back to Chiangmai in April this year for Songkran festival. 3 days of water fights music and family fun. Thai new year and what a great way to celebrate. Every body has water pistols. I'm lucky to have family there so got to do it the local way. We had a pick up truck ,every one got in the back. We had drums of ice water and if we go driving around Chiangmai.

So much fun!

The songkran festival was so much fun with a mix of thai people and travellers all playing waterfights together. Or prepared to be soaked, and when I say soaked I mean SOAKED! but it's lots of fun. Word of advice keep all your belongings in a water proof bag or they will be ruined.

If you are young or young at heart, you will love this. if you are more mature/older, you will hate this

If you are young or young at heart, you will love this. If you are more mature/older, you will hate this. I live in Chiang Mai and this was my first Songkran. I didn't know what to expect. It's a massive water fight. No one is exempt. Water guns are used as are small buckets of water and even occasionally hoses. You aren't even safe if you are on a bike or motorbike!

Great fun if you participate

Excellent if you are ready to get into the spirit of a wild water fight. Not any fun if you mind getting soaked as you walk around.

Both tourists and locals become wet and wild!

Songkran means water wars! Both tourists and locals walk the streets and drive around pick-ups carrying water guns and shooting at anyone. Kids I think have the most fun :) Some restaurants and hostels have drums of water or hoses ready on the street and don't let passersby escape the wetting. It's fun during the early part of the day when the sun is up but towards the afternoon it already becomes stressful haha!

Awesome fun!

Be prepared to be soaked. Waterguns, buckets, hoses, sprinklers are all out in force. Some throw iced water, some of the water smells (probably from the moat). Come with a sense of humour - saw some people get upset and it just created more attacks haha. The only downside is it is impossible to do anything without getting wet. All types of transport are heavily targeted along with pedestrians. It's meant to be three days but starts earlier. Too much fun, a great vibe and lots of happy laughing people if all ages.

"Crazy Festival"

Sogkran...the water fight of Thailand is an awesome festival. People become crazy and all fight with each other with water guns. We have experiend it in last April(2016) and cannot explain now how much we have enjoyed it. People of any age can be part of Sogkran. The best place to celebrate songkran is Chiangmai. We have so good experience in last Songkran so the higher price of flight tickets could not stop us to buy a ticket to chiangmai for the next year. CHIANGMAI...we are coming again...be prepared... :)
